«La Description de la Principauté de Neuchâtel et de Valangin» (Description of the Principality of N. and of V.)

The manuscript was written in 1692 and has now been re-published. Abraham Amiest, doctor and mathematician, describes the customs and problems of the population of the Canton during that epoch. The text is in Old French, a reproduction of the original work. The format is 16.5x24 cm and the price is SFr 9.—. Publisher: Revue neuchâtoise, case postale 906, 2001 Neuchâtel, Switzerland.

«L'ambulance du Docteur Alexis Carrel 1914–1918»

In the years 1914 to 1918, the term «ambulance» meant all movable field hospitals which tried to alleviate at least the worst suffering during those tragic times. Dr. Carrel asked a group of nurses of the nursing school «La Source» in Lausanne to help him in looking after the injured. This school which owned a collection of hitherto unpublished documentation regarding the «ambulance», committed itself to the promotion of this expedient. It entrusted one of their collaborators, Georgette Mottier, with this task. The text is in French. There are 180 pages and 76 photographs. Distribution: Payot Lausanne or ASS.
