Portrait of the Youth Service

Looking after young people plays an important part in the range of services provided by the Secretariat for the Swiss Abroad. Apart from CSSA (Committee for Swiss Schools Abroad) and AJAS (Association for the Training of Young Swiss Abroad), the youth service exists to look after the interests of Swiss Abroad aged between 15 and 25 all over the world.

AJAS Recognition of diplomas

Greater student mobility requires more information on the recognition of diplomas. The Central Office of Swiss Universities (SZfH) has set up an Equivalency Information Centre in order to make recognition recommendations for university studies. Swiss Abroad who are interested should apply to:

Edith Locher Brunner's team organises four youth and sports camps a year (see box), and these are attended annually by 200–300 young people from over 30 countries. Since 1990, it has also been organising a six-week youth exchange programme between Switzerland and the

Ski and snowboard camp 94/95

The two SSA ski camps promise lots of fun in the snow with young people from all over the world. They take place at Christmas in Splügen/Grisons and at Easter in Grimontz/Valais. Young Swiss Abroad will be introduced to skiing and snowboarding, and beginners will get special attention. Optional programmes (cross-country, snowboard, curling, skating, free half-days, excursions, etc.) provide constant change of scenery.

Dates, places: December 27, 1994–January 5, 1995, Splügen, Grisons. April 14–23, 1995, Grimontz, Valais.

Price: About Sfr. 630.– for each camp, including ski pass, ski school/snowboard lessons, ski hire and accident insurance

Leader: Edith Locher Brunner, head of the SSA Youth Service

Conditions: Age 15–25. Mother or father must be a Swiss citizen

Last application dates: Splügen: November 14, 1994. Grimontz: February 22, 1995

Swiss Abroad. In 1992, 60 young people from 15 countries took part in this, and in 1993 the number was up to 80 from 17 countries.

The Youth Service sends each of the 100 or so Swiss Abroad who volunteer to do military service in Switzerland two small gift and information packages. It also regularly informs those interested about its range of services and is always available to give individual advice.

Football VIPs win "Solifonds Cup"

The Solidarity Fund for the Swiss Abroad – the brainchild of the Organisation for the Swiss Abroad – depends for its success on close cooperation with the Federal Department of Foreign Affairs. As a sign that it recognises this, the Fund has donated a strip for the Foreign Ministry football team – which was baptised on the occasion of the "Solifonds Cup". The new outfit spurred on the team to qualification for the final, which ended with a victory for the VIP team. The picture shows the players of the Foreign Ministry team together with (centre row, from right): Rudolf Wyder, director of the Secretariat for the Swiss Abroad, Benito Invernizzi, director of the Solidarity Fund, and Rolf Bodenmüller, head of the Foreign Ministry's Service for the Swiss Abroad.
