Registration

The winter camp for children aged 8 to 14 in Valbella (canton of Grisons) is the only Foundation for Young Swiss Abroad (FYSA) 2019-20 winter season event for which you can still book places. For further details as well as the relevant registration form, visit www.sjas.ch/en. We are able to offer price reductions whenever these are justified. We are also happy to post you our information brochure on request.

Financial support for Swiss families living abroad

The FYSA wants to enable all Swiss children living abroad to visit and experience Switzerland for themselves at least once, regardless of their family's financial circumstances. To make this possible, the FYSA raises money every year on behalf of such children. The FYSA urges families who lack the necessary financial means to register for the camp and fill in the "Application form for reduction of the camp fees" – so that their children can also spend some time in Switzerland. For further details on the opportunities and conditions for price reductions, please contact the FYSA administrative office directly.

Thank you

In the last twelve months, many readers have paid a voluntary subscription to help fund the print edition of "Swiss Review". We in the editorial team would like to thank you for this support, which has reinforced our intention to continue publishing on paper for the foreseeable future – to the standard to which you are accustomed. Specifically, your support has enabled us to lend the necessary amount of depth to complex themes – e.g. the debate surrounding e-voting, and background research ahead of this autumn's national elections. The funding makes us even more committed to producing a publication that provides an eminently readable and – in the case of the print edition – tangible, tactile connection to your home country.

MARC LETTAU, EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

The FYSA looks forward to welcoming children who are keen to get to know and experience their homeland up close. (LR)
