EIDGENOESSISCHES SCHUETZENFEST— SCHIESSEN FUER AUSLANDSCHWEIZER

Under ideal conditions, glorious weather and a very good attendance, the Hamilton Swiss Club competed for the first time in the world-wide Shooting Competition for Swiss living abroad.

Thanks to the very able organisation of Hans Oettli we managed to put up 13 groups of 3 men each.

Members of the best 3 groups:

Group 1: Bolli Bruno, Hamilton, 49; Staheli Ernst, Hamilton, 47; Meister Hans, Hamilton, 37; Total 133.

Group 2: Oettli Hans, Hamilton, 48; Oettli Heiri, Hamilton, 45; Oettli Jean, Hamilton 36; Total 129.

Group 3: Biland Peter, Hamilton; Schnueriger Jnr., Waihou; Rust Rinaldo, Hamilton; Total 127.

Our appreciation goes to the Hamilton Rifle Club for their co-operation in lending us their rifles and the use of the range, and we hope to repeat this competition in the years to come.

Obituary

Mr. F. Schicker Spent Long Life in Taranaki

The death of Mr. Fred Schicker, Manaia, brought to a close a full life closely identified with the Taranaki province.

Mr. Schicker came to New Plymouth on the Sarantoa from Basle, Switzerland, in 1885 at the age of 10 years. With his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leony Schicker, he went to Egmont Road, where his father took up 160 acres of bush.

Mr. Schicker's first home was a ponga whare, and later—when the Maoris had shown Mr. Schicker, senior, how to build one—a flax hut.

In between helping on his father's farm, Mr. Schicker worked in a mill and went bush-felling, receiving from 17s to 25s an acre.

By 1901 the Schicker's farm was nearly all cleared of bush, and was carrying about 20 dairy cows as well as young stock. Mr. Schicker, senior, and two members of his family then returned to Switzerland.

Having married Miss Clara Gopperth, Mr. Fred Schicker then took over his father's farm. For a number of years he carried on the farm before selling and moving to New Plymouth.

After working with a New Plymouth joinery firm, Mr. Schicker went farming at Duthie Road, Mangatoki, later moving to Otakeho before retiring to Manaia.

Mr. Schicker was a life member of the Manaia Bowling Club and, for 52 years, a member of the Druids' Lodge.

He is survived by his wife and four children.

RECIPES

Onion Tart:

Line a flat tin with puff or short pastry. Finely slice (but not chop) 1lb of onions. Fry in two tablespoons of fat until tender but not browned, stir frequently. When tender add 3 tablespoons of flour. Let cool. Then add beaten eggs, cream, seasoning and some caraway seed, if liked. Spread over pastry and bake in moderate oven.

Gefuellter Hefezopf:

Make a yeast dough from 6ozs. flour, 4ozs. sugar, 3ozs. butter, 2 tablespoons oil, 2 eggs, rind of half a lemon, 2/3 of a breakfast cup of milk and one cake of compressed yeast. When risen roll out and cut in three strips, covering these down the middle with the following mixture: 1/2lb. ground almonds, tablespoon full of lemon juice, 5 ozs. sugar, 3 tablespoons of milk, and 2ozs. of dry raisins, all blended together. When filling has been spread, form the three strips into a plate. Let rise once more, then bake in a moderate oven. When finished, brush it over with a mixture of 2 tablespoons of icing sugar (flat, not heaped) and 2 teaspoons of water, mixed together. Put once more into fairly cool oven to let icing dry.
