Institut für Landschaftsarchitektur

Prof. Christophe Girot studied environmental planning and management at the University of California and Landscape Architecture at the University of California in Berkeley. He has been the Professor at the Chair of Landscape Architecture at the ETH Zurich since 2001, having taught there earlier as a visiting professor in 1999 and 2000.

Prof. Dr. Michael Jakob studied semiotics, philosophy, comparative literature and German literature at the Universities of Stuttgart, Tübingen and Geneva. Since 1996 he has been teaching history and theory of landscape as a lecturer at the Institut d'Architecture de l'Université de Genève. He has been a professor of general literature and comparative literature at the University of Grenoble since 1997.

Jacqueline Parish studied landscape architecture at Heriot-Watt University, the College of Art in Edinburgh (GB), Wageningen Agricultural University (NL) and spatial planning at the NSL, ETH Zurich. Since 2002, she has been developing and teaching in the MAS LA at the ETH Zurich and working as a freelance landscape architect in Zurich.

Dr. Christian Schmid studied geography and sociology in Zurich and wrote his PhD thesis on Henry Lefebvre's theory on the production of space. He taught economic geography in Bern and is now a lecturer in sociology at the Department of Architecture at the ETH Zurich.

Sabina Stählin studied architecture at the ETH Zurich and was a student in the MAS LA 03 programme. With two partners she started her own architecture office in Zurich in 1997. She has been teaching architectural design at the Fachhochschule Zurich since 2000.

Fred Truniger studied at the University of Zurich and in Berlin at both the Free University and Humboldt University, and holds a Master's degree in film studies. Since 2002 he has been developing the video and media modules for the Postgraduate Studies in Landscape Architecture Programme at the ETH Zurich and is currently working on his doctorate.

Prof. Charles Waldheim is Associate Dean and Director of the Landscape Architecture Program at the Faculty of Architecture, Landscape and Design, University of Toronto. Until 2003 he was the Director of Graduate Studies at the School of Architecture, College of Architecture and the Arts, University of Illinois at Chicago, where his teaching and research focused on landscape and its relationship to contemporary urbanism.

Prof. Dr. Helmut Weissert studied natural sciences at the ETH Zurich and has been a Professor at the Department of Earth Sciences at the ETH Zurich since 1993. His research interests are in paleo-oceanography, paleo-climatology and the evolution of the biosphere.
