English press men on matter Swiss. 15. HISTORIC RESEARCH WORK.—In preparation for his lecture on "The Attitude of the British Foreign Office Towards Switzerland in the Nineteenth Century." the Secretary had a number of copies taken from the manuscripts of the Record Office. These copies were afterwards used by the Author of the sixth volume of Dierauer's "Swiss History" and were finally sold to the Swiss Federal Archives. This gave a new impetus to the desire of the Swiss Federal Archives to have copied out all the records which were some time ago thrown open here to the public, and which are of interest to scholars of Swiss Federal Archives, and the historian who is finishing the Dierauer, an efficient copyist.

As you have gathered from this report of our activities, the year 1922 has been one of great anxiety for your Council and your Committee, but sepecially for our devoted Treasurer and Secretary. Financially, it has been a long struggle to econo-mise wherever possible, and at one time it was even doubtful whether we could make both ends meet. This is the reason why our Group has had to considerably restrict its activities. Much has been left undone which we should have dearly liked to have accomplished, but, taking everything into consideration, we can console ourselves' in the thought that it might have been worse. We have, therefore, much reason to be thankful and hopeful at the beginning of this New Year, during which the life of our Group will depend largely on the moral and material support which you are prepared to give. specially for our devoted Treasurer and Secretary.

on the moral and material support which you are prepared to give. We have received most encouraging assurances to this effect from a good proportion of our mem-bers, and I hope that many of those who have not yet replied to our appeal have come here to-night, fully decided to do their best. Thanks to the disintersted patriotism of our Secretary, we have been able to retain his ser-vices, at his own suggestion, for three days in the week, and, by exercising the strictest economy, we shall be able to carry on during the present year. This will naturally mean greater efforts on the week, and, by exercising the strictest economy, we shall be able to carry on during the present year. This will naturally mean greater efforts on the part of everybody, more work for those in charge, more sustained interests on the part of the members, more sacrifices in the shape of a higher subscription and donations; yet, without hestitation, ladies and gentlemen, members of the Group, I ask you for all this, because your past record is a criterion of what you can do. I know that, if at times your patriotic feelings are temporarily silenced by the great difficulties under which we are all struggling at the present hour, they are nevertheless there, ready to answer to the call, ready to serve the ideal of the N.S.H. There never was a greater need for such an ideal, because there never was such a struggle in the world between spirit and matter, than at the present time. On which side are you going to enlist, Members of the London Group? This is the question I ask from everyone of you, and J await your answer with confidence. February, 1922. J. BARR, President.

SWISS BANK FOOTBALL CLUB.

SWISS BANK Ist XI v. CANADIAN BANKS 1st XI. Chondon Banks' Football Association, Senior " B " Div.) Played on the latter's ground at Elmer's End on Startday, March 3rd. The home team won the toss and took advantage of sun and better conditions. Play transfer and the visiting team making a strong effort to open scoring, and their target seemed to be in danger to this lead was soon added another goal by the Swiss Bank, who seemed to be less put out by the thick mud and general wet state of the ground than their opponents. The home team tried hard to retaliate, the visitors' goalie effected a number of fine sizes. Play being transferred to the other end, the visitors' centre-forward broke through, putting the ball nicely hormer flag. A nice centre across the goalmouth, which was badly missed by the Canadian Banks' defence, have not define the first wing to take it down to the over the instead no chance to save, the ball being fett. The home team tried now really hard to settle down, and after a great effort managed to score. Just before the interval the Swiss Bank increased the play owing to the state of the ground (ploughed field by owing to the state of the ground (ploughed field young), owing to the state of the ground (ploughed field young), and although there were several exciting moments in front of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in front of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in front of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in front of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in front of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in front of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in front of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in front of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in front of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in front of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in front of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in foot of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in foot of both goals, no further scoring toops lines in foot of both goals plac
