vides information on the population, professions and salaries, factories, banks, insurances, limited companies, traffic, export trade, receipts of the Customs, the Federal and Cantonal finances, as well as other important items.

The second part, counting 40 chapters, treats of the development of the various branches of trade and industry during 1924. Each chapter begins with data on import and export of the branch in question. The text is completed with detailed information on the production, salaries and prices, compared with those of previous years. The Report also contains chapters on traffic, hotel industry, commercial and industrial tuition, etc. in 1924, and closes with a bibliographic index on economic works on Switzerland.

The Report on Swiss Trade and Industry for 1924 thus constitutes a precious source of information on commercial relations between Switzerland and other countries, as well as on the economic situation of the country itself. Foreign countries wishing to obtain information regarding their relations with Switzerland will find it most useful.

The Report can be obtained from the Secretary of the Union Suisse du Commerce, et de l'Industrie, Börsenstrasse 15, Zurich, at the price of 9 Swiss francs, plus postage.

SWISS MERCANTILE SOCIETY.

The usual Monthly Meeting of the Swiss Mercantile Society, preceded by a "Souper Chouroute," was held on the 14th inst. at the Union Helvetia.

The function was attended by 87 members and friends, and the Committee hopes to "face" at the next opportunity an even greater number. Apart from our former President, we had the pleasure to see amongst us Dr. Rezzonico, of the Swiss Legation, and last, but by no means least, the editor of this worthy paper, Mr. Boehringer. The members will have noticed his much improved looks since he has taken up his new address; evidently the change of air makes itself felt!

It would be most ungrateful not to mention the success of the effort made by the culinary department of the Union Helvetia, and without trying to cast aspersions on the appetite of those present, it was quite apparent that the "Souper" was being enjoyed.

The meeting started at about 8.30 p.m., the President, Mr. A. C. Stahelin, after welcoming the members and friends, called upon the Secretary to read the minutes of the last meeting.

There were 11 applications for membership, and 5 resignations.

Only a few letters had to be dealt with, and these did not call for any discussion. Mr. R. Chappuis reminded the meeting of the Cinderella Dances at the Midland Grand Hotel, the first taking place on November 7th. Tickets may now be obtained from any member of the Committee, or at 24, Queen Victoria Street and 1-2, Henrietta Street. The President was further able to announce that Mr. Chas. Strübin had agreed to remain a member of the Entertainment Committee, and will thus be able to give it the benefit of his experience.

The meeting closed at 9.30 p.m., after which the dancers took possession of the hall until a somewhat later hour.

UNIONE TICINESE.

A Special General Meeting of this society took place on the 18th inst., at 3.30 p.m., for the purpose of discussing and adopting the revised rules, as proposed by the Committee.

The new rules were, however, so well formulated, clear, concise and complete, that no amendment, on any vital point, was suggested; it was only a question of adding or deleting a word here and there, to make the meaning more accurate, but there was substantially unanimous agreement that the total overhaul of the rules was carried out in strict accordance with the needs of the society and the sentiment of the members.

A fairly long discussion arose, however, on the point of Honorary Members. The proposed rules made it clear that active members promoted to honorary membership retained all the rights and the duties of active membership, and all were agreed on the point. It was only a question of getting over the somewhat ambiguous meaning of the word "honorary," which was in effect a misnomer in the case, and the solution was found by the adoption of the equivalent of the "Bene Meruit" of the old Roman Republic. The membership of the society is therefore made up of:—(a) Active members, and can be such as Ticinese citizens only; (b) Honorary members, from outside the ranks of active membership; (c) Members "benemeriti," who have been declared as having "deserved well of the society" for exceptional services, but who remain active members. The list is, however, not a long one, as, so far, the society has only two honorary members and one "benemerito."

Owing to repeated amendments, in the course of years, the old rules were rather involved, in respect of benefit, but the new ones are a great improvement.

The votes which were taken were, with only a couple of exceptions, unanimous, and the vote on the rules "en bloc" was unanimous. When the meeting broke up, the general opinion was that the society had adopted a charter which ought to carry it through the next fifty years.

Special mention is, no doubt, due to Mr. S. Bianchi, who, with the foresight of a good lawyer and with his wide knowledge, contributed so much towards the new rules, which will enter into force on the first of January next.

ROUND AND ABOUT.

The many friends of Mr. Alfred Maeder, who some years back was instructor of the Swiss Gymnastic Society, will be pleased to learn that during next week they will have the opportunity of seeing him, together with his charming partner, at one of the London halls, i.e., the Kilburn Empire, in the new revue "Encore." Mr. Maeder may justly claim a record, as his acrobatic act has held uninterrupted sway over his audience for over 2½ years; his present contract with the Jack Taylor management lasts till June next, which prevented him from accepting one or two very attractive offers to appear in Monte Carlo and Berlin.
