La Chaux-de-Fonds: "Chess in History and Fiction."

The debating classes dealt with the following subjects:—

"Should women be entitled to propose marriage?" Proposer, Miss Isa Giger, Goutenschwil; Opposer, Mr. Charles Suter, Lausanne.

"Are you optimistic or pessimistic?" Proposer, Mr. Urban Grütter; Opposer, Mr. Rud. Bachmann, Luzern.

On Friday night an address was given by Mr. A. A. Schutz on "Education in England," which caused a lively discussion.

CITY SWISS CLUB.

The next monthly meeting of the City Swiss Club will be held on August 2nd at Vevey, when a large number of members with their families will attend the morning performance of the "Fête des Vignerons." For particulars as to the arrangements which have been made we refer those readers interested in this novel gathering to the notice in our advertising columns.

PERSONAL.

Our esteemed friend J. Geilinger, the doyen of the London Colony, celebrates next Tuesday, the 19th inst., his 83rd birthday. He is in the best of health, and still takes a keen interest in the activities of the London clubs, with which he has been connected for so many years, as well as in the political developments of the home country. Hearty congratulations.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Editor is not responsible for the opinions expressed by Correspondents and cannot publish anonymous articles, unless accompanied by the writer's name and address, as evidence of good faith.

Monsieur le Rédacteur,—J'ai lu avec intérêt ce que vous dites des dégâts causés par les hannetons. Je suis allé en Suisse en Juin et les boîfs au-dessus de Lausanne présentaient un aspect assez curieux. Il semblait qu'un certain nombre d'arbres, à la lisière des forêts, avaient oublié de pousser leurs feuilles. C'étaient des hêtres que les hannetons avaient dévastés.

L'expérience des deux champs d'herbe mentionnée dans votre dernier numéro est certainement frappante. Le champ qui n'avait pas été débarrassé de la larve des hannetons avait produit 1,000 kilos de foin de moins qu'un autre qui avait été traité, et de ce fait, le pauvre fermier a eu 15,000 litres de lait de moins qu'il n'aurait eu autrement. Nous regrettons tous cela, n'est-ce pas, mais d'autre part je n'ai pu m'empêcher de ressentir un mouvement d'orgueil en pensant à ce que notre admirable bétail suisse peut faire. Des vaches qui peuvent produire 15 litres de lait par kilo de foin consommé, eh bien, pour des vaches, c'est des vaches, tonnerre!

Malheureusement pour la Suisse, elle doit céder le pas à l'Angleterre en ce qui concerne les porcs. Rien n'égale le porc anglais, c'est reconnu. J'ai un élevage de porcs ici, et nous avons établi le fait que pour chaque livre d'aliments consommés, nos porcs augmentent d'un livre et demie... C'est ça des cochons, I tell you...

Agréé, etc.,

A DAY'S OUTING TO BISLEY

THE ELDORADO OF BRITISH MARKSMANSHIP.

Animated by the magnificent record which our Swiss "Meisterschuetzen" achieved at Rome at the recent international shooting contest, and being bent upon emulating their glorious example, a party of twelve members of the London Swiss Rifle Association, graced by the presence of two enthusiasts of the fair sex, proceeded to Bisley a few days ago, in order to match their strength with that of their English and Colonial brothers-in-arms.

The array of motor cars which conveyed them thither—from the foremost to the humblest "brand," but which latter was well able to defend its title to swiftness—may have suitably impressed our British marksmen colleagues, but in point of scores at the 100 yards targets it must be assumed that our friends formed the conclusion that "the Swiss have a long way to go, in spite of their fast cars."

Bisley is undoubtedly a centre of considerable interest when the Annual Shooting Competitions take place; in fact, it is an ideal spot, well worthy of a visit from anyone at all keen in the noble sport of marksmanship, be it with rifle, revolver or pistol. Few countries, if any, we should think, can boast of such an admirable shooting ground as Bisley undeniably is, offering ample scope for rifle practice from 200 yards right up to 1,100 yards, or nearly 1 Km. distance.

When the two teams of the "S.R.A." watched an old Colonel making in 20 shots 95 points (out of a possible 100) at the 1,100 yards range, and a naval officer placing 10 shots out of a pistol at 25 yards with such deadly accuracy that the hits could have been covered by a "Fuenfber" piece," their hearts visibly sank of being able to put up a fight at the range for miniature rifles of such a nature as would crown their efforts with success. However, be it noted with pleasureable satisfaction that the total score achieved was 3 points better than on the last occasion of the Society's participation in the Bisley contests, and we must take off our hats to Messrs. Lampert, Alfred Schmid, C. Wetter and one or two others who scored very creditable results, thus showing that "Bull's eyes" have a fascination for them.

An impromptu competition at a pistol range, well off the beaten track and in charge of a Sergeant of H.M.'s Forces, who advised that "Schwyzerdütsch" did not enter into the curriculum of the official in charge of the range, showed us that we had a "black horse" among us in the modest person of Mr. P. Hilfiker, who with perfect ease aggregated 87 points out of a possible 100, thus becoming entitled to the supply—free, gratis and for nixes—of a glass of "Lager" as a suitable recompense for his prowess in handling a service pistol. It is gratifying to have the assurance that in times of an international crisis the territory of the London Swiss Legation will have the protection of an official who is likely to create in the breasts of any possible aggressor the "sauve qui peut" feeling!

But even Mr. Senn, of "City fame," proved a formidable opponent at the pistol range, and but for the fact of a passing rabbit in the neighbouring woods having, apparently, attracted some of his shots, it can safely be said that his conquest would have been still more "striking."

In spite of a lengthy visit, on the homeward journey, to the refreshment counter of one of our Swiss compatriots at Staines, the party subsequently proceeded on to London without any "stains" on their character as sportsmen, and a most enjoyable day found its conclusion at the "Monte Carlo" Restaurant in Queen's Road, W.2, where our worthy member, Signor P. de Vincenti, provided a dinner "non plus ultra," and to whom the party's appreciative thanks are tendered for the proffered hospitality.

BUNDESFEIER, 1927.

On Saturday, the 30th, and Sunday, the 31st inst., the S.R.A. are arranging their customary "Bundesfeier" shooting contest at the Hendon range, and a very hearty invitation is extended to the whole Colony to participate in this patriotic function. This friendly competition is brought to the particular attention of Members of military age of other Swiss societies, whose support will be welcome. Particulars will be gladly supplied on application to the Secretary, S.R.A., 1, Gerrard Place, W.1. G.D.
