CITY SWISS CLUB.

Members are reminded that the first summer meeting of the Club will be held on Tuesday, June 4th, at the Brent Bridge Hotel, Hendon. No effort has been spared to make it a success, and it only remains for the weather to be fine.

An astrologer, the Abbé Gabriel, and other meteorologically-inclined abbés, the weather bureau of one of the leading London dailies, have been consulted. An attempt was made to interview the A—R—, but our representative was told to address himself to the D—M—. However, we feel justified in publishing the following forecast:

The planets are propitious. Mercury is about to enter Venus and under Aries, Sagittarius, like the "Golden Arrow," is swiftly pursuing his appointed path. An anti-cyclone is announced to be approaching from the Azores, but a depression off the Western Hebrides may or may not interfere. The moon will be in the last quarter. The barometer will rise or it may fall, and the temperature will vary according as it is hot or cold. But we are given to understand that as the date does not correspond with one of Buchan's cold spells, there is no likelihood of the weather being oppressively hot.

Under these circumstances we can only hope that the fear of bad weather will not prevent numerous members and their guests from being present. Members are requested to notify Mr. Boehringer in due time, so that, if necessary, arrangements can be made for an overflow meeting.

N.B.—The Editor declines all responsibility for the above and so does ck.

NOUVELLE SOCIÉTÉ HELVÉTIQUE.

The regular monthly meeting of the Nouvelle Société Helvétique was held at Swiss House on Wednesday, 15th May, when the business portion of the meeting preceded a most interesting causerie by Mr. Robert Schiess, formerly of the Swiss Papal Guard in Rome.

Mr. Schiess gave a most vivid account of the constitution, the life, the duties and other matters of the Guard and was listened to with enormous interest by the large audience present. Mr. Schiess, to make the lecture more interesting, actually appeared in the picturesque uniform of the Guard, and after having answered a number of questions he consented to the general request of the audience and produced his "zither." To hear Mr. Schiess on this instrument is something unexpected and wholly delightful; he is a recognised virtuoso on this beautiful though old-fashioned instrument. The best proof of the great appreciation of the audience is the fact that they would not let him go, even after the meeting was officially closed, but clamoured for more of the beautiful melodies he gave us from his repertoire.

It is the intention of the Council to organise similar evenings for the future, as this one has proved so attractive to the students of Swiss House. Mr. Masterman's co-operation is hereby very thankfully acknowledged.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of The Swiss Observer.

HOSPITAL SUNDAY.

Dear Sir,—May we draw the attention of our compatriots, thanks to the medium of your valuable paper, to the Annual effort made by the English public in favour of the Hospitals of this town on so-called "Hospital Sunday"?

That day, for which June 2nd has been chosen this year, a special appeal and collection are made in most of the places of worship of the Metropolis. For many years the Swiss Church has gladly joined in and sent her contribution to the Hospital Sunday Fund, as a small token of gratitude for all that the Hospitals do for our compatriots when in need of treatment.

Can we therefore ask the Colony to remember the above date and either come to the morning service on June 2nd in either of our Churches (79, Endell St., W.C.2 and 9, Gresham St., E.C.2), or send us their contributions by post in good time, which will be very gratefully received.

Yours faithfully,
RENE HOFFMAN-DE VISME,
C. TH. HAHN.

BÜCHER-BESPRECHUNG.

In der Märznummer des WERK der schweizerischen Monatsschrift für Architektur, freie Kunst und angewandte Kunst finden wir unter dem Sammeltitle "Umbauten" eine Gruppe von Bauten der letzten Jahre vereinigt, die zu den verschiedensten Zwecken in ihrem Bestand verändert worden sind. Der Umbau des Klosters Allerheiligen in Schaffhausen zum Museum—durch die Architekten Schäfer & Risch—eröffnet die Reihe. Es folgen die Umbauten der Domaine Merlinge bei Genf, des Schuhhauses Capitol in Zürich; Ladenausbauten; schlichte und rücksichtslose Lösungen, wie sie das Leben bringt.

Es folgt ein Essay über Paris aus einem demnächst erscheinenden Werk "Europäische Gedichte" von Herbert Moos, eine Publikation des in Paris lebenden Schweizer Malers Wilhelm Schmid, eine etwas bittere Abhandlung "Reglementierung im Namen der Schönheit" mit Belegen aus dem Kanton Tessin.

Das neue Heft des Werk (April) hebt an mit einer Erinnerung an die Bourdelle Ausstellung in Basel: eine grosse Aufnahme der "Eloquentia" ruft den starken Eindruck wieder wach der von jenen reich und gross entwickelten Sockelfiguren des Alvear-Denkmal ausging.

Dann Villen: grosse und kleine, geplante und ausgeführte; die Villa wollte bereits als abgestandene, überlebte Form abgetan werden, hier ist der gegenseitige Standpunkt vertreten. Zwei schwierige Architektur Wettbewerbe: Die Universitätsbauten in Bern und das Kunstmuseum von Basel werden unter besonderen Gesichtspunkten betrachtet. Es folgt eine Publikation von Arbeiten Albert Kohlens. Den Beschluss macht die Brille mit dem Thema "Wie eine Ausstellung gemacht wird."

Wir möchten diese Zeitschrift unseren Lesern aufs neue bestens empfehlen, denn sie orientiert vortrefflich über alles was Architektur und angewandte Kunst betrifft.

SWISS TRAVEL REVIEW.

The London Agency of the Swiss Federal Railways has sent us the first number of a new Review for propaganda purposes. Its main title is just "Switzerland," with the sub-title "Travel Review of the Swiss Federal Railways." It contains articles in French, German, Italian and English, written by authors of highest standing, extolling the beauties of our country. A large number of lovely illustrations add to the attractiveness of the Review. It is most beautifully and cleverly executed, for which we congratulate the responsible quarters.
