CITY SWISS CLUB.

Une soixantaine de personnes, entre membres, dames et amis, prirent part samedi dernier à la première des trois soirées dansantes que le 'City Swiss Club' organise cet hiver.

Les salons spacieux et élégants (St. James' Rooms) de l'Hotel Métropole, Northumberland Avenue, W. se prêtèrent admirablement bien à cette réunion, encore que le nombre des participants fût bien en-dessous de ce qu'il avait été il y a un an. Pendant le dîner, l'orchestre Colombo joua des morceaux choisis, y compris des airs suisses enlevés à la perfection. Au dessert, Signor Emilio Colombo, le célèbre violoniste bien connu des abonnés au radio et des habitués des grands restaurants chics, vint tout spécialement nous régaler de pas moins de quatre solos, joués avec cette finesse, cette virtuosité que nous lui connaissons et qui fut— inutile de le dire— chaleureusement appréciée de tous. Espérons qu'il revienne!

Après ces quelques instants superlativement délicieux, ce fut le tour de la danse, aux sons entraînants que l'orchestre Colombo sait choisir pour ces occasions. Bien entendu, une franche gaieté régna d'un bout à l'autre de la soirée, hélas! trop courte, et l'on se sépara à minuit, heureux et satisfait. J.Z.

MUSIC IN THE COLONY.

Now that the arrangements for the concert of the Swiss Institute Orchestra, on February 12th, are complete, one is permitted to say something of the programme. It is certainly an interesting one.

A noteworthy feature of the orchestral side of the entertainment is the atmosphere of liveliness which pervades the half-dozen works which are to be played. For those who like something a little heavier there is an excerpt from Wagner's "Meistersinger," but apart from this, the spirit of gaiety ushered in by the delightful "Coppélia" ballet of Delibes, is maintained throughout. Considerable credit is due to those responsible for the selection of so spirited a programme.

Little need be said of the Choral Society's share in the proceedings, except that the co-operation of these fine singers is hailed by their fellow artists of the Orchestra with as lively a sense of satisfaction as their singing invariably is by the Colony at large.

Madame Pellet, also, is already known to us. Her soprano, with that lovely warmth of tone so rarely heard in this voice, is an acquisition we would not willingly forego; particularly when she is to sing "By the Waters of Minnetonka."

A word of exhortation to lovers of song who have not yet heard Mr. Arthur Cranmer. Don't miss the opportunity of hearing that great artist at Conway Hall. Those of us who heard (and saw) him as "Dalna" in "The Immortal Hour" six or seven years ago, will not readily forget the experience. In opera and on the concert platform he is equally admirable. He has, as "The Times" said of him, "a voice of rich quality not unlike the middle notes of the Cor Anglais."

Subscribers to the Swiss Observer will receive, with the issue of February 8th, a complete programme of the concert. On the front page of this will be found the most convenient means of travel, for the benefit of those who are unacquainted with the locality of Conway Hall. S.

UNIONE TICINESE.

At the Annual General Meeting of the society, held at the "Schweizerbund" on the 26th inst., the Committee for the current year was elected as follows:

Mr. W. Notari, president, Mr. C. Berti, vice-president, Mr. O. Gambazzi, secretary, Mr. E. Biucchi, treasurer, Mr. P. Demaria, assistant-secretary, Mr. C. Moresi, assistant-treasurer, and Messrs. A. Bolla, C. Bolla, O. Braga, C. Demaria, R. Orelli.

On resuming the Chair for the 11th year of office, as President, Mr. Notari received a hearty ovation by all the members present, as a token of appreciation for his able leadership and the splendid services he is rendering to the society. The Auditors had reported upon the correctness of the accounts and complimented the committee on the very satisfactory results of the year just closed, in spite of the rather numerous extra donations to deserving causes outside the society.

As delegates to the Swiss Sports were re-elected Messrs. E. Lucca, L. Biucchi and V. Ratti. The renewal of our usual contributions to the Fonds de Secours, the Middlesex, the French and the Italian hospitals was duly voted, and after disposing of a few other items the meeting broke up amid the best cordiality.
