FEDERAL.

SWISS DISCOUNT BANK.

At a meeting held at Berne of the principal banking creditors of the Banque d'Escompte Suisse (Swiss Discount Bank) with Dr. Bachmann, president of the managing committee of the Swiss National Bank, in the chair, it was decided to approve the main lines of the proposals for the reorganisation of the bank. These proposals involve a serious writing down of the Ordinary share capital, the conversion of Preference capital into Ordinary and the payment of a substantial proportion of the creditors' admitted claims in Ordinary shares.

A committee was formed to work out the details of the plan. According to the scheme about 56,000,000 Swiss francs (£2,240,000 at par) will be written off capital and liabilities.

SWISS MOTOR LAW.

The new Federal motor law which came into force on the first of this month, abolishes 24 different existing regulations. Every Swiss canton has hitherto had special legislation concerning motor traffic.

Under the new law the speed limit is only maintained in the towns and villages, but the driver's responsibility will be considered greater in case of an accident. Third party insurance is also continued and some safety devices are made compulsory, such as direction indicators, consisting of red arms electrically lit and placed at the front of the car. The weight of motor lorries is limited, and this to some extent will favour the railways in their competition with road transport.

The Federal Council has appointed Colonel Lederer to the post of District Instructor of the 1st Division, in succession to Colonel Schibler who has retired. Colonel Lederer was in command of the troops which were sent to Geneva on the occasion of the riots which occurred in November last.

FOOTBALL.

The short respite till 8th January, before the "Challenge" programme is resumed, gives me the opportunity to get up to date.

First of all, I have found to my cost that even Swiss papers can occasionally be guilty of printers' errors. I am referring to that postponed cup tie in Bellinzona on the 8th December. The Wireless had it that Basel had won and in print it was the other way about and in spite of my spectacles I trusted my eyes more than my ears. My confidence was utterly misplaced. Please note the result of that match was

Bellinzona 2 Basel 3
In the next round therefore, Lugano will have to travel to meet Basel and my tip is on the latter.

Of course, the S.O. has already forced me to give the draw for the fourth Round twice, on account of a printers' error, and for the Swiss contemporary to fall into line and help to make it three-times, is really too bad.

And now we come to what is probably something unprecedented in the history of any Football competition. On 27th November, Montreux was to meet Oerlikon in the First League Challenge. Montreux was otherwise engaged (cup tie replay) so the two clubs arranged to consider the Challenge game as played, no goals and no points to be credited to either side! Funny, is it not?

Lastly, the days of protests and appeals are not yet ended in good old Switzerland. This time it is Bözingen, the newly promoted First League Club who appear as the aggrieved party. In the Championship match of 9th October won by Montreux 3:1 the latter played an unqualified man. Bözingen won their protest and the result has been altered to 3:0 in their favour. This affects the League table published in our issue of 26th November. Bözingen now occupying sixth place with 5 points and Montreux remaining last with not a single point from 8 games.

The other "affaire" refers to the First League Challenge game in Locarno, played on 11th December. That match had to be abandoned when the result was 2:1 in Locarno's favour. The Referee had awarded Bözingen a penalty, when pandemonium broke loose, the spectators invaded the playing field and prevented the taking of the kick, etc., etc. The decision of the Football Committee now is:

1. Result altered in favour of Bözingen 3:0.
2. F.C. Locarno's ground to be closed for three Challenge or Championship games, which are to be played on other grounds at least 100 km. from Locarno.

And quite right too. Can you imagine such a thing happen in English League Football? What makes it worse is that last year we had similar trouble in Lugano, resulting in that ground having to be closed. Swiss Football may have advanced, but what of the sportsmanship of the public? A healthy club-partisanship is surely permissible, yet such wild fanaticism amongst the spectators must be discouraged and kept within reasonable bounds.

The Christmas Holiday Games were rather fewer than usual. The more interesting results were (home clubs always first):—

Grasshoppers	3	Admira (Wien)	3
Bellinzona	1	Rapid (Wien)	14
