FEDERAL.

GOTTLIEB BUEHLER †.

From Frutigen comes the news of the death of M. Gottlieb Bühler, late National Councillor, at the age of 82.

The deceased played an important rôle in the political sphere of the canton of Berne in pre-war days, and he at one time, together with his colleagues Army-Corps Commander Will, Bühlmann, Hirter, Usteri, Spahn, Forrer and Göttsheim, all prominent Liberals, greatly influenced the Policy of the Federal Government. M. Bühler was born in Brienz on the 13th of March, 1855, and after having studied law, established himself as a notary in Frutigen. At the early age of 26, he entered the Grand Council of the canton Berne, where he was one of the champions of the Railways expansion policy. In the year 1889 he entered Parliament (National Council) where he at once took a leading part, and when he vacated his seat, after 30 years of uninterrupted membership, his departure from the political arena was universally regretted.

M. Bühler was for many years a member of the Board of the Swiss National Bank; in the Army he reached the rank of Colonel of the Infantry, and he was a doctor honoris causa of the Federal Technical University in Zurich.

WEVER AND CO. BANKRUPT.

Wever and Co., of Basle, has been declared bankrupt. In June, 1935, the bank had to stop payments and was granted a moratorium by the Court of Basle. The bank ascribed its difficulties to the general depression in trade and its frozen assets in Germany.

While the moratorium was still in force the bank submitted a reorganisation plan, providing for payment of a dividend of 19.4 per cent., to the Swiss Federal Supreme Court.

It was established that between 1930 and 1935 the bank, the capital of which amounted to Frs.2,000,000, had lost Frs.2,100,000 (£100,000) as a result of speculative transactions. It was also found that further losses did not appear in the balance-sheet. The bank paid dividends up to 1932, but it is considered that these should have been stopped in 1930.

For these reasons the Supreme Court found that it could not approve the reorganisation scheme. The bank therefore had no alternative but to file a declaration of bankruptcy.

SWISS GOLD RESERVE.

The latest weekly return of the Swiss National Bank shows the gold reserve unchanged at Frs.2,622,900,000 (£121,600,000 at current rates), following the reduction in the previous week of Frs.95,100,000 (£4,400,000).

Total commitments are covered to the extent of 97.63 per cent. by gold, as at 23rd April, compared with 97.32 per cent. a week earlier.

HUGO MARTI †.

The death occurred at Davos, after a long illness, of Dr. Hugo Marti, author and literary editor of the "Bund."

He was born in 1893 at Basle, and studied Philosophy at the University of Berne and various German Universities. For some years, Dr. Marti was a private tutor in Rumania and Norway.

In 1922 he was appointed literary editor of the "Bund" in Berne.

Amongst his best-known works are the novels: "Das Haus am Hafl," "Ein Jahresring," and the anthology "Der Kelch." The untimely death of this young and promising writer is universally regretted.
