THE PEACEMAKERS.

When hostilities ceased, all the World had a thrill :
But the Peacemakers' voices sounded discordant and shrill :

We live in a world which is hard and divided,
Where Justice is blind, and God's Word is derided.

The U.N.O. is sitting, but like the old League,
The intentions are good, but there is too much intrigue.
They have forgotten the motto : " All for One, One for All ",
And if they are not careful, they will ride for a fall.

The Big Three sit aloft on their Olympian Tower,
Surveying the world, at their zenith of power.
Let us hope they will veto further quarrels and fights
Lest their lofty Olympus should become " Wuthering Heights ".

We hear much about culture and civilisation
And are promised the Millenium — in the next generation —
We hear much about Freedom, and Humanity's call,
But tolerance and forbearance are seldom practised
at all.

The planners are tracing their beautiful schemes,
The Optimists are happy with their Utopian dreams.
By all means let us build a better World if we can,
But the first thing that's needed is a far better MAN.

F. ISLER.
