Acrow put the most into their racking systems...

...and you get the most out of them!

Acrow, the people who really know your storage problem from every angle, offer an unsurpassed choice of fully engineered racking systems, scientifically designed to do the job better. Illustrated here is Acrowrack Series 88.

Acrowrack Series 88

- * is the only true beam to upright frame, wedge locking system on the market.
- * has all welded upright frames requiring no extra braces, clips, nuts, bolts or screws!
- * has no metal removal from the upright posts giving maximum strength and stability.
- * has the unique patented locking connector which cannot be removed, broken, or 'misaid'.
- * has beams of rectangular or stepped section to take decking panels to your requirements while providing for instant adjustability.

Acrowrack Series 88 is worth getting to know. The Acrow design and advisory service is as near as your telephone.
