In addition there have been airmail series, stamps issued for use by soldiers on active service, and stamps given to charitable institutions and hospitals. Beyond that there are issues by United Nations and other Swiss based organisations. Special issues for use by mobile post offices in the 40s and 50s show postbuses of the era.

This is, of course, only the briefest introduction to a wide-ranging and absorbing subject. Swiss Post issue a free magazine called Focus on Stamps which is available in English from: Die Post, Briefmarken und Philatelie Kundendienst, Ostermundigenstrasse 91, CH-3030 Bern. When in Bern a visit to the PTT museum near the Historical Museum at Helvetiastrasse is highly recommended. As well as interesting post and telecommunication exhibits including a postbus "layout" and historic telephones to play on, there is a most comprehensive Swiss and world stamp collection.

MORCOTE UNIQUE IN TICKET HISTORY?

Morcote is one of several attractive tourist villages around Lake Lugano in Switzerland's Ticino region. Visitors flock to see the old buildings, the arcaded souvenir shops and market stalls and the church above the village. It is not served by rail and so to reach Morcote you have to catch either one of the boats operated by Societa Navigazione del Lago di Lugano (SNL) or take a postbus from Lugano. The SNL and their larger boats now machines capable of issuing format. This model is used transport operators and by tres. On boats without the sy paper tickets to passengers

Three piers are staffed for Gandria, Campione d'Italia (rounded by Swiss soil) and these three offices all retained a (very) limited stock of Edmondsons for the more popular journeys. All issuing points (including those with KVG) have card tickets for group travel, yellow ones for full fare and striped white and yellow for half fare.

Not only is Mr Edmondson's invention available from the small SNL ticket office adjoining the tourist bureau at Morcote but the Post Office also sells his tickets for the single journey to Lugano Paradiso or Lugano Piazza Rezzonica, although most passengers pay their fare to the driver. Surprisingly both of the examples I bought were numbered 00143; I wondered if about 140 other collectors had been there before me! (In Switzerland tickets numbered 00000 are held as specimens and not issued to passengers.)

I suggest that Morcote is the last place in the world where Edmondson cards are available from two different offices and for two different modes of transport—and, surprisingly, neither is for rail journeys. Unless, of course, you know better!
