JUST A SEC - Roger Ellis

'Norman Stanley Fletcher' are you out there?

Referring to my notes in the September Swiss Express, one or two members have contacted me regarding the 'archiving' of our photographs and articles, and I thank them for their interest.

I am sure members will remember watching the 'Porridge' series on television and the numerous subsequent reruns. As I recall Norman Stanley Fletcher spent some time in the prison library, regarded as one of the more cushy duties. A similar person is now wanted by the Society, not of a criminal disposition, but someone who has a liking for indexing and cataloguing.

In short we need an archivist.

Ideally the member should have a computer together with a scanner, be prepared to start from scratch with the backlog of material accumulated and initiate a system that can be easily taken over by any successor. The Committee does not underestimate the amount of work this may involve, but hope that this may appeal to one of the Society's members. Please contact me if you feel you can help.

Thank you.

Prison Officer Mackay
